SECRECY GUARDS PLAN OF PAN-HELLENIC PROM

Hints Dropped To Indicate That Greek Co-eds Are Arranging for Gala Event.

At times when Rauscher's has been the cradle in which society has presented its new-born debutantes to the world, it has been a gay enough place, but enthusiasm will burst all bounds tonight when the co-eds escort their fortunate gallants across the threshold to the Pan-Hellenic Prom.

The committee in charge of arrangements is not divulging the secrets which are operating to make the affair a gala event on the social calendar of G. W. U. Suffice it to say that the girls are arranging the program with a thoroughness not to be exceeded. A casual hint here and there promises artistic programs, unsurpassed music, pleasing decorations, and the "under-graduates" themselves are planning to outdo their former reputation for chicness and beauty through the gorgeousness of their own adornment. Every mode from the approved flapperesque style to the conventionally elegant creation and the subdued conservative frock will prevail.

Spring will share the honors, too, of making the affair a success. Everyone is in a receptive mood for gaiety and the indications are that the lady Greeks will make the most of it. Furthermore, the Pan-Hellenic Prom is recommended for serious cases of spring fever, that expensive malady which urges one to far-off spots to indulge the fantasies of spring; that terrorizing ennui which besets one at this season, if not permanently, for the time at least, will be magically dispelled in the wonderland which the sororities will create tonight.

EXPECTS FAVORABLE ACTION ON PETITION

Delta Epsilon May Grant Charter to Gamma Tau Zeta, Local Journalistic Fraternity.

Gamma Tau Zeta is receiving encouraging letters from the president of Pi Delta Epsilon for the granting of a petition at the national convention of the fraternity, to be held at Champaign, Ill., April 27 and 28. Acting on the suggestion of the president of Pi Delta Epsilon that a representative from Gamma Tau Zeta be sent to this convention in the event that the revised petition from the George Washington local be favorably passed upon, C. Melville Walker was elected at a recent meeting to attend the convention.

In the event that the Gamma Tau Zeta petition is accepted, Mr. Walker will immediately be initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon and will attend the remaining part of the convention as the official representative from George Washington University. He will then bring the charter from Pi Delta Epsilon to this University, and the signers of the Gamma Tau Zeta petition will be initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon.

A smoker will be held by Gamma Tau Zeta next Tuesday evening, April 4, at the Kappa Sigma House. Prospective members for the fall election will be invited by the active members.

SENIORS PLAN TWO SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Two elaborate social events are being considered by the senior class to be held at the close of the school year, according to the class president, Robert Colfesh. One is to be a closed senior prom, rivaling the interfraternity prom in splendor, and is being planned to take place some time between the final examinations and commencement. The other is to be a class night held after commencement. Nothing definite can be announced as yet, but it is expected that plans will be made for these events in the near future.

PORTIAS AGAIN LEAD IN SCHOLASTIC STANDING

When Secretary Jordan, of the Law School, recently posted on the bulletin board the list of scholastic averages of the various fraternities and sororities represented in that school, it was observed that Phi Delta Delta had repeated its accomplishment of last year by taking first place in the list with an average of 80.13.

The names of the young women composing the local chapter are Edith M. Archey, Ruth Audas, Elizabeth M. Bailey, Harriet M. Barbour, Helen R. Carliss, Nell Ray Clarke, Mary S. Covington, Kathleen Duggan, Louise T. Foster and Lois Gates Gorman.

RACQUETERS TO MEET.

All those interested in tennis are urged to attend the first tennis meeting of the year, to be held at Lisner Hall Monday, April 3, at 8 o'clock. This meeting is a very important one, as plans will be made for the spring tournament.

'HIS WIFE'S HUSBAND' SPRING COMEDY TITLE

Members of Cast Announced; Arrangements Being Made To Present Play Early in May.

After numerous setbacks and disappointments, the progress of the spring comedy is rapidly gathering momentum and is moving forward most successfully. Mr. William Becker, the director, having caught this spirit of progress and being much encouraged, has at last announced the cast, who are:

Miss Geraldine Barlow and Mr. Paul Jeffrey, who will play the leading parts, assisted by the Misses Dorothy Bartley, Constance Donahue, Mary Vaccarro, and Mrs. Harry Perlin; Messrs. Robert Pollock, Robert Baker, J. de Witte, Ward Rappollee, and John MacCarthy complete the list.

Few persons, unless their attention is called to the fact, realize what an ambitious undertaking it is for the University to put on an original comedy with songs, to be played before the public as well as the students of the University, by amateurs and written by a young man whose name as yet is not legion. However, this feat has been accomplished by other schools, who have gained much fame thereby, and Mr. Becker feels confident that nothing but success is in store for this comedy.

Arrangements are now being negotiated with a local theatre of considerable size for a period of at least a week early in May, when "His Wife's Husband" will be presented for the approval and enjoyment of the students of George Washington University and the general public.

DEAN HENNING PREPARES EDITION OF FRENCH DRAMA

To Be Used As Textbook for Study of Contemporary Works and Aims.

Students of French will be interested in learning that Dean Henning has prepared the latest edition of Hervieu's masterpiece, La Course du Flambeau, as the initial volume in D. C. Heath & Company's series of contemporary French texts. The series is to be edited by American scholars under the general direction of Prof. Earle B. Babcock of New York University. The second and third volumes are now in course of preparation.

In addition to the presentation of this contemporary French drama there is an introduction by Dean Henning dealing with Hervieu's life and works which is a convenient resume of the aims of the French theatre in Hervieu's time. It is the belief of the publishers that this play can serve as a suitable starting point for the study of contemporary French drama.

Paul Hervieu (1857-), dramatist, novelist, academician, has contributed novels, tales, and essays to the chief Parisian papers and reviews, and has published a series of novels. His most important work consists of a series of plays, of severely logical construction and sometimes embracing extreme theories which have been reckoned among the masterpieces of the modern French stage.

BASEBALL CHALLENGE ISSUED BY G. W. MEDICS

Allcomers challenged! Even to the National and American Leagues! The hitherto unheard of School of Pharmacy and the aspiring Pre-Medics have formed a baseball team with which they challenge all comers. The first game of the newly formed "league" will be with the newly organized Engineers' team on Monday, April 3, at 1 p. m. at Diamond No. 4. Arrangements are being made to handle the great number of answers that must necessarily appear from this notice, and all due consideration will be given to those who wish to enter the league. Applications must be sent in immediately to Charles P. Ruby, captain, at the School of Pharmacy.

The challenging team will start practicing at 10.30 Monday, April 3.

FOUNDING OF COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM AWAITS ENDOWMENT OUTCOME

Other Courses To Be Added to Curriculum if Money Drive Is Successful.

The feasibility of the institution of a school of journalism at the beginning of next year has been unofficially discussed in publication circles and between the heads of the publications and various members of the faculty. The Hatchet has taken up the matter and presents the views of the President of the University and Daniel C. Chace, instructor of the class in journalism which is now included in the curriculum.

President Hodgkins stated that while it is his sincere hope that such a school should be inaugurated in the near future, it is impossible at this time. He stated also that he wishes to add to departments of business administration and fine arts but that lack of funds and class room space prohibit the materialization of his plans. A campaign is to be instituted in a very short time to obtain such a fund, and in case it is successful, it may be reasonably expected that the president will add a school of journalism to the University.

"Due to the never-failing loyalty of the alumni," stated the President, "success for the endowment campaign is assured, and we might well expect to see within two or three years a school of journalism as an integral part of G. W. U. At the present time, however, plans are very tentative and consist mainly of a hope that it may be possible."

The popularity with which such a course of study would meet is demonstrated by the enrollment in the one course of journalism now offered. Rapid growth since it was founded has resulted in a class this year of such size that Mr. Daniel C. Chace, who conducts the course, finds difficulty in handling (Continued on page three.)

RIFLEMEN TO SHOOT AGAINST GEORGETOWN

Leading University Marksmen To Be Met Outdoors in Spring Matches by G. W. Crack Shots.

George Washington rifle squad will swing into action tonight, meeting Georgetown in the first indoor match of the season. The match will be fired on the Georgetown range, ten men shooting for each team, and the eight high scores counting. This should be an exceptionally close match, as the Georgetown boys have many first-class shots and the Hatchetites are not any "pokies" themselves, as has been shown in previous matches. The match will last over two nights, five men of each team shooting on each night. The shooting will be from the prone position, G. W. U. shooting in a different class, in the intercollegiate match by many points. This course was offhand, kneeling, sitting and prone.

Following this, indoor matches will be shot against several of the leaders of the collegiate world until the outdoor season begins. G. W.'s outdoor season centers about one match to be held at Annapolis on the Navy range the first Saturday in May. The best teams of this section, and probably the whole country, will participate, and there will be much glory for the winner. Teams of six men each are expected to be entered from G. W. U., Naval Academy, Georgetown, University of Pennsylvania, the Citadel (South Carolina), Maryland State, Johns Hopkins, and several others.

There will be much hard competition in this match, as the teams competing have good reputations. The Navy team took third place in the U. S. National Match at Camp Perry last summer; the Citadel won the National R. O. T. C. championship at Camp Perry; the University of Pennsylvania is now leading in the indoor collegiate matches, and Georgetown has been doing well indoors.

GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINS.

Large numbers attended the concert given by the Girls' Glee Club at the Women's University Club last Monday. Repeated encores were demanded by an unusually appreciative audience. Most of the numbers on the program were by the chorus, but several solos were also given.

The glee club is planning another concert at Walter Reed on April 11. They are also arranging for a concert to be given at a later date at one of the local churches.

24-HOUR DEBATE.

Ohio-Wesleyan 24-hour debate with George Washington University will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at eight o'clock this evening, Friday, March 31. Each member of G. W. U.'s team will be a member of one of the intercollegiate teams. The subject was given to the two opposing teams yesterday, Thursday, at eight o'clock in the evening.

SWARTHMORE BOWS TO G. W. DEBATERS

Judges Render Two to One Decision in Sustaining Affirmative on Sales Tax Legislation Question.

Dogged persistence in holding to their points in the constructive speeches, damning logic and brilliant oratory in the rebuttals proved the success of George Washington's affirmative team over Swarthmore's negative team in their clash in the first of the triangular intercollegiate debates between teams of Swarthmore, West Virginia, and George Washington University at the Y. M. C. A. last Friday, March 24. The subject, "Resolved, That Congress Should Enact Legislation Providing for a Sales Tax," is yet a new question and so gave opportunity for broad discussion. Those sitting as judges, Hon. James F. Smith, judge, United States Court of Customs Appeals; Hon. Orion M. Barber, judge, United States Court of Customs Appeals; and Mr. Henry K. Orion, a graduate of Dartmouth College, now practicing law in this city, gave their verdict of two to one in favor of George Washington in consideration of the weight of evidence each side brought to bear on the question.

The visiting team, C. Norman Stabler, '23; Alfred Zinn, '25; and Richard Slocum, '22, upheld their side of the question by showing the injustice of the sales tax to the individual, the hardship it will bear on business, and its undesirability to the Government. The affirmative team, of G. W., Leslie Jackson, Law '22; Oscar Zable, Arts '25; and Edward L. Scheufler, Arts '22, presented the sales tax plan with the arguments that it was the only desirable plan which can be used at the present time, that it was a sufficient tax, that it was just and equitable to the individual and to business, that it had already been successfully used in other countries, and that it was consistent with all the incidents and properties of the most just and equitable of taxes as set forth by the greatest of economists from the time of Henry Adams. The affirmative did not have time to sum up their arguments, however, and it looked well for the visitors at the close of the constructive speeches. But the negative team had used too much of their opening (Continued on page three.)

GIRLS MEET TO FORM G. W. ATHLETIC CLUB

Propose To Coordinate Women's Sports and Arouse Student Interest in Activities.

Nineteen of the University's letter girls met last Wednesday night and drew up plans for a girls' G. W. Club, the purposes of which will be to coordinate women's sports, form a greater degree of alumnae enthusiasm, arouse student interest and school spirit, effect the equipment of a gymnasium, and lay the foundation for a mid-Atlantic athletic association. With Martha McGrew in the chair, the girls discussed the various possibilities, finally passing a motion that all girls who have won their W's and G. W.'s form a G. W. Club, of which Martha McGrew was elected president and "Ted" Siebold, secretary. President McGrew will choose committees this week to obtain the approval of the Board of Managers and to arrange that all letter awards be similar. She will also appoint committees on gymnasium funds, tennis, swimming, and basketball.

Realizing the fact that there is a sad lack of student support around the University and that the proposed organization will serve well to fill the need, the girls seemed enthusiastic over prospects. Miss McGrew stated that she thought it a fine idea to form this club and, using it as a nucleus, to arouse the interest of other universities and colleges, and together form a mid-Atlantic athletic association. Miss Siebold was in favor of a girls' athletic association, to which would be admitted all girls in the University interested in girls' athletics.

INTERFRAT TROPHIES AWARDED AT PROM

Both Bowling and Basketball Cups Go to Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Scholarship to Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Pep and good-fellowship marked the annual Interfraternity prom, held at Rauscher's on the 23d. Just about the right crowd, music that would make a turtle hop, a floor waxed as if by a bevy of diligent goats, special features that would interest the most blasé—all these and more crowded the hours from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. on G. W.'s exclusive Greek night.

Fancy programs started the surprises for the 230 couples that attended. These were very cleverly designed and are now prized souvenirs of the occasion.

The real treat of the evening was the music. The eleven-piece combination was about the best to which G. W. has yet danced, and many and varied were the bewitching and bewildering steps which its efforts brought forth.

Interfraternity awards were also made. The purple-velvet banner of Sigma Phi Epsilon claimed the much-coveted scholarship cup, while both the bowling and basketball awards were won by Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The President of the University and Mrs. Hodgkins, the deans of the colleges and their wives, and many of the professors were present.

PAN-HELLENIC ASSO. TENDERS LUNCHEON

Girls With Highest Averages From Senior and Fresh Classes Attend * Function at Lafayette.

The annual Pan-Hellenic luncheon was held at LaFayette Hotel Saturday, March 25. Three girls from each sorority in Pan-Hellenic were present and two from Columbian College and two from Teachers. The ones from the colleges were the senior with the highest average from each one, Anne Hox for Columbia and Alice Fowler for Teachers; and the freshman with the highest average, Thelma Hunt from Columbia, and Dorothy Parton from Teachers.

The representatives from the sororities were the Pan-Hellenic delegate, the senior with the highest average, and the freshman with the highest average. Those present from the sororities were: Pi Phi, Marjorie Gerry; Epsilon Epsilon, Dorothy Haddock; Phi Mu, Helen Pabst, Dorothy Pattison, Agnes Ewell; Chi Omega, Agnes Messer, Mary Cramer, Frances DeGrange; Sigma Kappa, Eunice Crabtree, Maxine Rolle, Eleanor McMurry; Alpha Delta Pi, Alice Ashford, Marion Spielman, Isabel Wheatley; Gamma Beta Pi, Gladys Tuele, Margaret Patterson, Harriet Hosmer; Gamma Phi Theta, Pearl Rupert, Mae DonLeavy, Ruth Regan; Gamma Delta Rho, Helen Newton, Mildred Callahan, Verna Short.

Mrs. Erwin, the only guest, spoke on the meaning of Alma Mater before and after graduation. Toasts were given by the following girls: Thelma Hunt, Pearl Rupert, Harriet Hosmer, Dorothy Pattison, Eleanor McMurry, Mary Cramer and Dorothy Haddock.

SOPHS ANTICIPATE MIXER.

Long delayed expectations of the sophs for a mixer are soon to be gratified, according to President Clyde Tolson. The mixer will take place the latter part of April, and a definite date will be announced soon. There has been considerable agitation for the mixer, so it is anticipated that it will be well attended. The postponement on account of numerous other conflicting events has in no way lessened the intent of the class to put across the best mixer yet held.

TO CANVASS FOR FUNDS.

Dr. Brigham, in charge of the Dean Wilbur portrait fund, announces she has made plans for an individual canvassing. She has placed this work in the hands of two girls, one of whom will handle the alumni, the other the undergraduates of the University. This is expected to increase materially the funds hitherto raised by the candy sale.

Y. W. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS.

The annual election of the Y. W. C. A. of George Washington University was held Monday, March 27. The following were elected as officers for the coming year: Mabelle Bennett, president; Bernice Wiley, vice president; Alice Cushman, secretary; Maxine Rolle, treasurer.

WASHINGTON, D. C. MARCH 31, 1922

A School of Journalism

No other university in the United States is better adapted for the study of journalism than is George Washington. Situated in the heart of the nation where news originates, surrounded by the best daily papers in the country, its student body composed of energetic, intelligent and ambitious men and women, the foundation is here for the establishment of an excellent journalistic department. Such a branch would not only be a great help to the upbuilding of the school publications, but would be a signal advancement in the progress of the educational standard of George Washington University.

Journalism is rising to be one of the most dignified of callings; it has risen from a mere trade to a profession. The President of the United States is a journalist. In European countries the majority of the statesmen are journalists. The time has passed when experience is the chief qualification for a writer and a newspaper man; a good education is now necessary to fight against the great competition in the field. The successful journalist must study for his future life work, as must every professional man, and this can best be done by pursuing a journalistic course in a recognized university.

The establishment of a school of journalism at George Washington University is only in keeping with the progress the institution is making. Two new publications have made their appearance this year, and there is evidence of improvement in those already established. A local journalistic fraternity has been organized, which expects soon to receive a charter from a national honorary journalistic fraternity. There must be some medium to furnish members for the publication staffs, supply material for their composition, and afford students the means of securing an education for the journalistic profession; we need a school of journalism.

Our Next Year's Leaders

Who will be our leaders next year? Those this year who have pulled a few political strings and then stood back and criticized, or those who have really worked to better the activities of George Washington University? The football player who has labored on the gridiron or the basketball man should become as influential in the school as the politician who has received the benefit of publicity. Let us be careful in placing our approbations, making certain that the deserving man receives just credit for what he has done. Let us pick out the man who has really worked for the betterment of George Washington activities and not to satisfy his own desire for self-fame.

STUPID SLAVE SAYS:

Dear Stupe:
An article in the Star said any boy who belonged to the Shifters Club could kiss any girl who wore the paper clip emblem. Do you think they ought to do this?
I. M. Wise.

Dear I. M.:
No; any girl who has to wear a Shifter pin to get kissed these days is not worth bothering about.

Dear Stupid:
What is a sorority? Idel Iketon.

Dear Idel:
A sorority is an organization of sweet, innocent, young things who dance a lot, go out a lot more, and study less. They have a meeting twice a month to discuss the latest methods of vamping the male; nevertheless, we like 'em.

Dear Steve:
Who do you think is the best looking girl at G. W.
U. R. Funny.

Dear U. R.:
No question at all; the girl I took to the Junior Prom, of course.

Dear Steve:
What happens to the white in the snow when it melts? Perplexed.

Dear Perplexed:
We don't know; but it probably goes the same place as the light when it goes out.

Dear Steve:
Is it true that in the spring time young man's fancy turns to love?
U. R. Dumb.

Dear U. R.:
No; they're always there.

Dear Stupe:
Why are all the windows in The Hatchet office always broken?
O. Gosh.

Dear O. Gosh:
Every day when class gets out, the members of the staff are so anxious to see who will be the next to come out

In a "flapper" suit that they rush to the windows, which are so dirty they can't be seen through, and in the hurry to get them up they are often broken. Watch for this tomorrow.

Dear Stupid Steve:
Why is there a notice on the bulletin board of the University of Mexico?
Cure Gus.

Dear Gus:
We gained so good a reputation from the various mixers last fall that the Mexicans think they could train G. W. students to be future revolutionists?

It has been said that one of the Phi Phi's hasn't a tweed suit.

The announcement of the engagement of Helen Hadden of Phi Mu and C. Walter Parker comes as a terrible shock to the school.

A Pan-Hellenic rule was kept by Sigma Kappa.

Alpha Delta Pi announces the engagement of Wanda Castle and George Hughes, the latter not being the same that married Sarah Tilghman.

THE RABBIT HOLE

This Junior is learning to be a banker

IF you are putting in three hours a day in the electrical lab, don't be surprised twenty years later to find yourself promoting a public utility bond issue. Or if you start in newspaper work, as like as not later on you will turn to manufacturing or advertising or law.

You don't know where opportunity or inclination will lead you. This fact has a great deal to do with your work at college—not so much the things you learn as the way you learn them.

Don't think of education as a memory test in names and dates and definitions. That knowledge is important, but only as an incidental. Of far greater value is the habit of getting at underlying laws, the basic principles which tie facts together.

The work of the pioneers in electrical experiment, at first glance confusing, is simplified once you realize that much of it hinged upon a single chemical phenomenon, the action of the voltaic cell.

Analyze your problems. Look for fundamentals. Learn to connect a law or an event with what went before and what comes after. Make your education a training in logical thinking.

This ability to think straight, whether acquired in Engineering or Arts, is the biggest thing you can get at college. Its aid as a means to success applies equally to whatever work you take up—since mental processes are the same everywhere. It is the power which enables a mechanic to become sales manager, a lawyer to head a great industrial organization. Develop it, if you would be ready when your big opportunity comes.

Western Electric Company

The executives of this Company have been chosen from all branches of the organization. It doesn't make much difference where you learn to think straight, so long as you learn.

STUDENTS TO BALLOT ON NEW CONSTITUTION

Council Wishes Expression of Opinion on Proposed Change of Government; To Vote April 4 and 5.

Are the students of George Washington University interested in the form of student government which is to control the interests of the student body? Are they to take a part in the direction of the funds they pay under the student activity tax? These are the questions before the Student Council, put by the faculty. They are the questions that stand before the student body.

A straw vote is to be taken on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, April 4 and 5, proposed and sponsored by the members of the Student Council. The new method of student government proposed for student activities, as given in the issue of The University Hatchet of March 10, will be printed on a single sheet of paper with the salient features pointed out; to this will be attached a ballot on which the student is given his chance to vote for or against such a change in the method of student government. At Columbian College the work will be done at the entrances into Lisner Hall, where the members of the council will explain the subject in hand and endeavor to arouse the student body to act. The ballot box will be at hand. At the Law School, because of the favorable attitude of the dean, it is hoped that an opportunity will be given to present the matter to the student body in person.

The purpose of this straw ballot is to find out, first of all, if the student body is at all interested in the matter of the government of their school's activities. What the Student Council wants is the vote of as many of the students as possible for or against. Where public opinion is needed, it is necessary that the great number of the members of that public express some opinion.

This campaign is a definite move on the part of the Student Council to get student opinion behind them in proposing, first, that the duties of an actual Student Council be definitely outlined, with the power and responsibility such duties infer; second, that such duties be limited definitely to student affairs outside of the University athletics; third, a definite accounting to the students where and how their student activity tax was used, and if they had, through representation, any say as to where and how it was spent. In short, it will put the Student Council in a position to do what they were elected to do, and in which they are at present prevented from doing.

The matter now rests in the hands of the student body whether the Student Council is to be actual or nominal. The members of the Student Council request a vote either one way or another.

FOUNDING OF COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM AWAITS ENDOWMENT OUTCOME

(Continued from page one.) In such a way that the utmost value may be obtained from it. Mr. Chace is very enthusiastic concerning the projected school of journalism, and feels it will fill a long-felt need in Washington university circles.

He makes the following statement: "George Washington University, as a leader in the college world, is justified in considering the establishment of a school of journalism. Its situation is ideal, at the capital of the nation, with unsurpassed sources of news, its student body is composed of persons who are especially interested in affairs, and it is a part of a community which is the world's greatest news-gathering center.

"Every progressive university should consider the growing importance of journalism as a profession, and the service that is rendered to the field that it occupies when men and women are properly trained for the work of writing about the daily life of the people. We cannot give too much attention to the preparation of each member of the profession in which the service is in proportion to the enlightenment and accurate training of the writer. There is no reason why those who devote their lives to this work should not be as fully grounded in the fundamentals of the best practice as those who enter any other of the leading professions.

"In these days when the public generally depends so much upon the newspaper for its information and guidance, editors and writers should be prepared to speak with a knowledge on a par with the best informed of their readers, and only by proper educational training can this goal be attained. Only by a well-organized course can the best results be assured. George Washington University should be a leader in this work."

CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETS.

The George Washington University Chemical Society held a meeting Wednesday night, March 22, at 8 p. m. Physiological Chemistry was the subject of an illustrated address by Dr. Griese. A business meeting and refreshments followed the address.

CHERRY TREE READY TO GO TO PRINTER

Many New Features Promised by the Editors To Make This Year's Edition an Interesting Book.

It's on its way to press. Yes, the manuscript is almost done and the pictures of all the fair ones and those not so fair are on their way. Innovations and still more innovations has been the watchword for this edition, and the editors are confident it will be worthy of the University whose events it chronicles.

Practically every organization composed of students of G. W. U. and all the big events in which they participated will find themselves accounted for when the annual appears. Even the profs, those destroyers of the peace and tranquility of our minds, are to be mentioned so that the luckless seniors who are leaving us will not entirely lose the atmosphere which has permeated their existence during their stay with us.

The art work, too, is out of the ordinary even for a University as noted for its art as is ours (viz: Ghost), and each piece of it has a particular significance with regard to the subject it introduces.

"'Twill not be long till you see this marvel of the ages, this paragon of all virtues in annual making. Then, if you haven't ordered yours, you'll wish you had, believe me," says Karl Peterson.

(Continued from page one.) speeches in trying to tear the affirmative position to pieces, and had accomplished little in the way of constructive argument. When the rebuttal came they were subjected to racking destruction by the G. W. U. men. They made a good showing by their individual attacks, but the strategy and team work of the affirmative team assured victory for the latter.

Before the meeting was adjourned Dr. William S. Washburn, of this city, who acted as chairman, called upon the judges to give a word as to what they felt about the debate. Each congratulated the work of both sides, and enthusiastically praised the good that intercollegiate debates have accomplished in the country. In the words of Hon. Smith, "Each side has earned a debt of gratitude for the presentation of a subject little known and of great value. Failure to understand a proposition marks its death; so many good ideas most beneficial to the country have been defeated. Not thinking for themselves among individuals is the downfall of democracy."

INTERCLASS BASEBALL TEAMS ARE SUGGESTED

Arrangements for a second freshman mixer and a freshman class baseball team will be discussed at the freshman class meeting to be held in Lisner Hall chapel Tuesday evening, April 4, according to W. Graham Fly, president of the freshman class.

Graham Fly has requested the entire freshman class, both boys and girls, to attend this meeting, as there are several matters of general class importance to be discussed and as attendance at the class meeting is the surest method of determining the support to be expected for any class enterprise.

Great enthusiasm is being felt for the success of the baseball team, as an exceedingly strong team was put out by the freshman class of last year. The freshman team of last year defeated Tech High School 21-7, Maryland University freshman class 9-5 and Stewart Business College 15-0.

It has also been suggested that a sophomore team be organized and an interclass game be played.

LAW FROSH PLAN DANCE.

At a joint meeting of the executive and entertainment committees of the 1924 Law Class, it was decided to open the spring social activities of the class by giving an Easter dance Thursday, April 20, at Franklin Square Hotel.

INTERCLASS MEETS FOR GIRL SWIMMERS

Mermaids to Participate in Exhibitions, Life-Saving Tests and Five-Mile Swim.

The plans of the University's girl swimmers for the remainder of the scholastic year include interclass meets, exhibitions, Red Cross life-saving tests, distance swimming tests, and entrance into any advisable meets that are held.

The Red Cross life-saving tests will be given beginning this Friday and extending through April. Each girl will be required to tow in the apparently drowned, carry a person of her own weight out of shallow water onto land, illustrate the Schaefer method of resuscitation, break all strangle holds, make a perfect surface dive in eight feet of water, and execute other feats before she may become a wearer of the coveted life-saving emblem.

An interclass meet and exhibition will be held at Central High School about the middle of April. Among the events will be distance swimming, exciting illustrations of rescue methods in life-saving, unusual obstacle races, and fancy diving. An admission fee of 50 cents will be charged for this event, the exact date of which will be announced very soon by posters.

Yet another plan of the team is to have Portia Clifford and Nadine Calvert, two of its distance swimmers, try to break the world's record in distance swimming when they swim between Chain and Aqueduct bridges the last part of May.

GENEVIEVE CHATTERTON McCUTCHINS PRIZES ARE OPEN TO ALL STUDENTS

Students throughout the University are invited to compete for the Genevieve Chatterton McCutchins prizes, according to A. D. Putnam, Class of '22. All students are eligible, and those interested in art, history, literature and the languages should be able to make it a part of their class work.
Conditions governing these two cash prizes of $25 and $15 are stated in the catalogue.

Subjects may be taken from contemporary art, literature, or music, or from earlier periods. Papers for this contest should be handed to Dr. Carroll or Dr. Brigham on or before the 1st of May. The conditions are as follows:

"Two cash prizes of $25 and $15, based on the income of a memorial fund of $1,000, to be awarded annually for the best and next best essays on subjects connected with archaeology or painting. In their award consideration will be given to students' knowledge of contemporary literature, history, or music, as relating to the progress of the fine arts. These prizes are open to both graduates and undergraduates."

NEW FRAT APPEARS

Skulls, bones, a desire and capacity for bootleg liquor are the chief requisites for membership in the great and honorable fraternity of T. N. E.— which means Tappa New Egg-nog—which has recently made its antics known around our spacious campus.
All those who can consume a gallon of good beer are eligible—unless they wear the pin of a national fraternity.

Historically T. N. E. has had a career as precarious and heated as the eighteenth amendment. An attempted reorganization in 1909 excluded all beverages from the family councils, with the result that the spirits of the members deteriorated so greatly that continued life had as much chance as foam on a beer bottle. But alas; all habits have now been renewed and there thrives an ever-increasing number of Guslem-Syrup exponents.

CHEM.-ENG. PLAN TRIP.

A trip to Sparrows Point, taken annually by the Engineering and Chemical Societies, is in view for the near future for those interested in steel manufacture. One day during the Easter holidays is the most likely date for this all-day excursion to the big steel smelting and rolling mills of the Bethlehem Steel Company at Sparrows Point, Md.

HEARD THROUGHOUT THE COLLEGIATE WORLD

Georgia Tech.

Tech's annual crosscountry was held Saturday, March 11. Horace Moore was the lucky man, with a record of 18 minutes and 55 seconds for a 3½ mile race. As prizes, 113 cakes were given away.

Penn State.

Plans for enlarging Penn State College to care for a student body of 10,000 have been accepted by the college board of trustees. Ground will soon be broken for the first units of the program.

Wisconsin University.

Teams of the Wisconsin University won four meets in one day; the track team, mat team, swimming team, and hockey team being victorious.

Cornell University.

Cornell University has organized a class in basketball officiating. The students will be given an opportunity to referee at the varsity scrimmages and at intercollegiate interfraternity games.

CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL ADDRESSES FREE LANCERS

At a meeting of the Free Lance Club on Wednesday evening attended by over 60 students, resolutions were passed strongly condemning the action of the president of Clark University in dismissing a meeting of the Clark Liberal Club at which Scott Nearing was the speaker, and vigorously reassert-ing the belief of the Free Lance Club in intellectual liberty in the college.

The speaker of the meeting was Charles Edward Russell, an internationally famous personality, author of a dozen works of political criticism, essays and verse, and a member of the Root commission to Russia.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON WINS SCHOLARSHIP CUP

Fraternity Averages Made up From Final Marks of All Active Members.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, maintaining the highest scholarship average of all the fraternities of George Washington University, was presented the Interfraternity scholarship cup by the Association at the Interfraternity prom
Thursday evening, March 23.

The cup was the gift of the Association for the purpose of encouraging higher scholarship among the fraternities of the University. The average of Sigma Phi Epsilon was about 85; and very close upon the heels of the winners were Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta.

The cup, which is silver, standing about ten inches high, will be the permanent possession of Sigma Phi Epsilon. On one side is engraved "Interfraternity Scholarship Cup," on the other, "Sigma Phi Epsilon." The averages of the fraternities were made up of the final marks of all the active members of each fraternity.
